THE COAST INDIANS.

The Practice of Sorcery Universal—Epidemics of Devastating Disease.

The Debasing Vice of the Race—Terrible Arraignment of Government Control.

SECOND LETTER.

Specially written for THE TIMES.]

It is curious to observe the immense funds of ignorance from which current ideas respecting the Indians are derived. The public appears to be utterly indifferent; the Indian Office mildly humane, well mannered, expensive, hopeful and utterly useless. While the public is indifferent, and the department hates to be disturbed in its ancient slumbers, the employers of Indian labor, are careful that the people shall be blind to the real state of the Indians, lest their natural prey be rescued.

I have devoted a month to travelling by canoe through the Kwagutl agency this summer, studying the formations, products of the country, the natural history of its people, their legends, opinions, capabilities, statistics, prospects and government. In this and the next letter the results shall be laid before you.

The Kwa-gutl Agency, often known as the Fort Rupert, extends from the middle to the north end of the island; and from its watershed eastward to the head of Knight's Inlet; containing fourteen villages and now only 1,898 people, they having diminished by 5,100 since 1853. In their language, a dialect of that used by the West Coast (V. I.) Tribes, there exist the following: a Kwagutl grammar, three gospels, some hymns and the Anglican forms of prayer, prepared by the incumbent of the C. M. S. Mission at Alert Bay. For many years two Roman Catholic missions were maintained, but although by all accounts the priests were sincere and very holy men, the work was at last given up in despair. The Anglican Mission, conducted with some success at Fort Rupert, but not to such advantage latterly at Alert Bay, would undoubtedly prosper but for an infamous secular influence exerted with the avowed hope of driving away the incumbent. A new mission is being started on Kingcombe Inlet, to the north of Knight's Inlet, in a village of 350 people, still utterly heathen. Contributions may be addressed to the Bishop of Caledonia, Metlakahtla, in aid of the Kwagutl's, and help is urgently needed. There is a better chance here of doing good than we often get.

And now as to the customs of these Indians. Sorcery is practiced in all the coast tribes by a guild of doctors, who, by making a noise with voice and rattle, drive away the evil spirits of sickness at so many blankets a day, until the patient either gets well, or dies out of sheer desperation. Indians never die a natural death, being secretly blasted by somebody who has burnt an image or cast upon them an evil eye.

Notwithstanding the attainments of the doctors the Indians are hopelessly addicted to epidemics. Smallpox was especially frightful when some twenty-five years ago half the nation perished. Vaccination is very difficult here because the people are so scrofulous that it often amounts to a serious illness. Yet it ought to be strongly insisted upon. Measles, too, is not the trivial complaint that we know, but a terrible disease, slaying old and young alike, not by its own virulence, but by neglect of the sick and exposure during convalescence.

An addiction to gin has been terribly fatal in many of the tribes. It is purveyed by white men who sneak about the channels in sailing boats, and are nearly impossible to catch. An eye witness described the result to me, which was that the liquor was poured into vessels as large as beer "schooners," which were emptied in one or two draughts until the whole company were dead drunk and insensible. No real check upon this is possible under the existing system. Elsewhere, on two occasions, whiskey traders have told me that they can afford an occasional seizure and fine when they don't pay license.

Four years ago at Blenkinsop Bay some Salmon river people slaughtered the crew of an American schooner, reported to contain liquor. On Bute Inlet fourteen white men were once murdered. The murder or robbery of shipwrecked and distressed persons is also on record, and on two occasions some little annoyance has been evinced and the offending villages erased by way of rebuke.

But sorcery, drunkenness, robbery, and murder are harmless amusements among the Indians when compared to our cherished industry, their prostitution. So long as the mercantile interests of this province demand the labor of Indian women, so long will their woe and ruin and death from contact with white men be visited on our heads. So long will the men of our laboring and poorer classes go with fifty cents to buy the impregnation of that thing which will be visited upon them and upon their children until the third and fourth generation. And it is a most pitiful, and terrible, and damning fact, that because of this pet inviolable industry of ours the young women and children of the Kwa-gutl Indians are nearly all dead. In times gone by the men and women were faithful to one another, and clave together; and they do so still, old and trembling as they now are, poor desolate old creatures now, horrible with stench and vermin, sitting in the ashes, exposing their withered and naked limbs, a sight to turn a man sick with loathing. In times gone by there was a binding purchase of wives. A woman was taken on approval, and if not satisfactory, after six months' trial was returned and the price refunded by her parents. Once bought there was a general understanding that the bargain should be faithfully kept; and it was kept in most cases. Thus were the women virtuous, according to their lights, until we came to teach them better things, although there were bad stories of in and in breeding. But now the young women account it slavery to stay a whole season with only one husband, and I found a case on the Skeena of a woman deserting three during last year's salmon run after squandering all their money. Children and adults should be in proportion of nearly three to one, whereas in one tribe (Fort Rupert) I find 143 persons of whom ten are children and none marriageable women. Capitalists, "your craft is in danger of being set at nought"—soon there will not be any women left to die and there will be no more blood and ruin left to answer for!

And the urgent reason of this chief cause of death is that only by prostitution of their wives and daughters can the men find money to squander in the feasts. There is no poverty among these Indians and they need never be fed from the public funds like those of the prairies. The country so abounds in natural products, and so keen is the demand for labor, that there is no fear of want.

It will be needed in few words to explain the system known as the potlatch. The word does not mean a giving, but a payment of obligations; and its cause is not hospitality, but simply a striving for supremacy. The potlatch is a feast to the memory of the dead, on erecting of a monument, or occasion of marriage, declaration of war, making of peace, or initiation of "doctors," "destroyers," or "Ha-mad-sis." Among the northern Indians the obligation of great potlatches rests with the chiefs for the most part, who are assisted by their relatives, the members of their "totem." Among the Kwa-gutls there are few recognized chiefs, and all men compete in a frantic striving for supremacy in excess. On many houses are painted numbers of daubs, each representing a canoe given away or destroyed in some potlatch; and absurd inscriptions are to be seen referring to the numbers of thousands of blankets distributed. There is a fictitious currency, depending upon the potlatch, consisting of "coppers" or escutcheons equivalent to gold, blankets equivalent to silver, and in ancient times shells equivalent to copper. Escutcheons are often valued at from one to two thousand blankets, depending, according to the experts, upon their age and ugliness, just as old china is valued among ourselves. When the potlatch is really prohibited, as it now is in theory, the fall in the value of "coppers" will be a heavy loss to the Indians, and this is one reason for their general protest that they will die rather than give it up.

Under the innocent guise of a feast the potlatch is fearfully iniquitous. In old times jealousies gave rise to wars distinguished for their fiendish atrocities; and quite lately, hearsay relates that two men were poisoned at a feast from the same cause. The host and his family while laying by money for the payment of old obligations by a feast, are woefully stinted. This accounts for the naked squalor of the aged and the miserable clothing of the children. The potlatch reduces the giver to debt and abject poverty and pauperises large numbers who depend to some extent on potlatch gifts instead of earning a living. But bad as the whole usage is, it is simply frightful that a man should lay by the hoarding of years by prostitution of his wife and daughters, and that aged people and little children should suffer from cold and neglect by this bad economy. I have told you of sorcery and pestilence, drunkenness, assassination, robbery, adultery, murderous avarice and prostitution; but I have yet to tell you of more frightful evils, so horrible that if you are still willing to let the Indians perish under patronage of a doleful and slumbering office there will be an awful reckoning when you are called upon to account for it.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

SHOOTING AT WIMBLEDON.

Wimbledon, July 12.—Six of the Massachusetts marksmen took part in the Steward contest to-day, distance 200 yards, standing 7 shots each. Their scores are as follows: Huddleston 34, Hinman 33, Bumstead 31, Hussey 30, Edes 29 and Merritt 29. In the windmill contest Staff-Sergt. Ogg of the Wellington Field Battery won the St. George's cup with a score of 68. Rogers, Weston and Armstorng won money prizes.

THE JAP WINS.

The wrestling match between Matsada Sorakichi, the Jap, and Peter Schumaker came off at Seattle last evening. The match was in the Græco-Roman style, best two falls out of three, for the sum of $500 a side and a percentage of the gate money. Quinn acted as referee. When the first round commenced both men manœuvred continuously. Sorakichi finally found his opportunity and threw his opponent, part of the latter's body projecting over the stage, time six minutes. The second bout was won by Schumaker. The third bout was a short one, but exceedingly lively. The Jap once lifted Schumaker completely off his feet, smashed him to the floor, but the cat-like agility of the latter stood him in good stead, and he escaped. Sorakichi finally succeeded in getting Strangler Lewis' favorite hold, and after standing a minute of the most fearful choking Schumaker's hand convulsively tapped the floor two or three times, signifying that he could stand it no longer, and the match was accordingly awarded to Sorakichi.

ANOTHER JOCKEY CLUB.

Nanaimo also is to have a driving association. A number of gentlemen interested in horse racing have subscribed $2,500, and it is proposed to build a first-class half-mile track with judges' stand, grand stand and other appurtenances necessary to a first-class race course. Baseball, cricket and football grounds will also be laid out.

CRICKET.

A match game will be played between the Nanaimo and Vancouver cricket clubs on Friday next at Nanaimo. The following team will represent Nanaimo: Messrs. H. Cooper, Dr. Praeger, P. Hovelacque, H. Johnston, S. Thompson, Fielding, P. Armfelt, H. Dixon, E. Hodgson, E. Potts, H. Millar, E. B. Paul, J. H. Hawthornwaite, G. Cavalsky, J. W. Creighton, Sowden, Rogers and R. Gibty.

LACROSSE.

The committee of the Vancouver Lacrosse Club held a meeting last evening, to arrange about a match to be played with Victoria if possible, on the 27th inst., for the Alhambra challenge cup. In the matches played so far Vancouver stands one ahead, counting in a practice game with New Westminster, and with practice and hard work expect to carry off the trophy. Hard practice is enjoined on the members.

MCINTYRE EN ROUTE.

A private despatch received to-day states that McIntyre had left San Francisco yesterday and will arrive here on Monday to go in training for his race.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Another Young Man Gets Beyond his Depth and is Drowned.

A sad accident occurred at Nanaimo yesterday, similar to that by which young Unwin lost his life on the arm a few weeks ago. Harry Worrell, says the Courier, a young miner lately working at Southfield, went for a bathe with some young friends yesterday near the Indian graveyard and as the water, even at high tide, is very shallow, Worrell walked out on the shelving beach a considerable distance, and when last seen alive by his companions he was jumping up and down in about 5 feet of water, when suddenly he shouted, "Boys, I'm done for," and sank and did not rise again. One of his companions, Geo. Williams, immediately went for help which speedily arrived. A canoe was procured, also giant powder and dredge hooks when the party proceeded to the scene of the accident. After some hours of ineffectual dredging giant powder was exploded in the hope that it would cause the body to float. The effect was partially successful as the body was detected by an Indian a few feet from the bottom, and was raised to the surface with a pole and placed in the canoe preparatory to being taken to the boat house.

It is supposed that Morrell, who could only swim a few feet, and that dog-fashion, was standing on the edge of the stream of deep water that runs from Nanaimo river, and slipped in backwards, and lost his presence of mind.

The deceased was about 22 years of age, and a native of Pennsylvania, although he came here from California, and had lately been in the hospital suffering from a broken thigh. He was very popular among his fellow workmen and a great deal of commiseration was felt at his untimely demise.

The inquest will be held this afternoon.

Ice Cream Prostrates a Picnic Party—A New Radical Party in England.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Chicago, July 13.—Lake Shore railway officials say the action of the Grand Trunk in reducing rates on all mill stuffs and grain, both to New York and all New England points, completely upsets an agreement for restoration of rates made by these roads in New York. The worst feature of the Grand Trunk's break is the fact that its agents are this morning on 'Change making contracts for all the business they can get at low rates. This will prevent any compromise with the Grand Trunk and will defer indefinitely the restoration of rates.

STEAMER BURNED.

New York, July 13.—The ferry-boat John Adams, laid up at Port Richmond for some time, was burned to the water's edge this morning. The origin of the fire is unknown. The Adams was owned by Jno. Marr, of Albany, N. Y., and was valued at $25,000.

THE PRESIDENT'S MOVEMENTS.

Washington, July 13.—The President left yesterday afternoon for Deer Park, Md., with Private Secretary Halford and Secretary Windom and his wife. Halford and Windom will return with the President on Tuesday or Wednesday.

GLIB MULDOON.

Chicago, July 13.—Muldoon and Cleary arrived in the city early this morning by train. In an interview with Muldoon, he described his escape at Nashville as follows: "I was sitting with Sullivan when the officer entered the cars; they were about to place me under arrest, when I said to them what do you mean? I am no prize-fighter—do I look like one? I am a gentleman and it's your duty to protect and not offer me insult. They at once abandoned me and devoted their efforts to securing the big fellow and Johnson. John L. was a little disfigured from the hand work but is still in the ring."

RATE CUTTING.

London, July 13.—No credence is given here to the reports of rate cutting by the Grand Trunk and the market for American railways is steady.

Best root sugar is quoted to buyers at 19, sellers 22.

CANDIDATE FOR THE GALLOWS.

San Diego, July 13.—J. Murray, who shot and killed Marshal Wilson, while resisting arrest last week, has been held for trial for murder without bonds.

THE DEADLY CHURCH PICNIC.

Seeley's Bay, Ont., July 13.—Over two hundred persons were poisoned here yesterday at a church picnic by eating ice cream that was kept in a zinc freezer for several hours. No deaths are reported but many persons are in a serious condition.

TERRIFIC SUMMER STORM.

Chicago, July 13.—A storm prevailed throughout the northern part of the state last night. At Lena, Bennie Caldwell was killed by lightning. At Bloomington hundreds of acres of grain were destroyed by the wind. J. Williams was fatally injured by lightning at Streater.

NEW CROP OF POSTMASTERS.

Washington, July 13.—The president has appointed the following postmasters for Washington Territory: Mossy Rock, Lewis county, H. Mayfield vice Jas. Doss, removed; Snohomish, Snohomish county, Geo. B. Deering vice James Barboe, resigned; Tulloo, Snohomish county, Mrs. A. J. Austin vice Mrs. Evans.

JOHN L. AS A FUGITIVE.

Chicago, July 13.—Nothing authentic seems to be known of the whereabouts of John L. Sullivan. The papers report that he spent the night with his friend "Curly," and left again this morning for Montreal via the Grand Trunk road.

Sullivan has really left Chicago for Canada at last. This is the general opinion among sporting men. A reporter visited Tom Cleary's place this morning but Sullivan had not been there since he arrived in Chicago. He and Tom Cleary were around about the city together.

"Have you any idea where the slugger is now?" the bartender was asked.

"Yes, I can guess. He left with Tom Cleary about 10 o'clock last night for Eddie Larsh's place, South Chicago. I wouldn't wonder if he remained there a little while and then caught the Baltimore and Ohio express for Washington, where he is to meet a contingent of sports who are on the committee of celebration."

Mike Lawler said this morning that it was undoubtedly true that Sullivan went to South Chicago last night, but he but he thinks he laid over there until this morning, when he took the Michigan Central for Canada. "He wanted me to come and see him before he left," said Mike, "but I refrained, because I thought some of the sports might think I was giving him away to the police."

THE NEW PARTY.

New York, July 13.—The Mail and Express' London cable says: The new radical party is asserting itself more and more. Division after division on the prevailing question has given it the opportunity to do this. Although a unit with the Liberal party on Irish and other questions of local economy. It goes farther on democratic lines in dealing with the latter which directly concerns the royal family on every vote relating to the appointment of a committee on royal grants. Mr. Labouchere and Mr. Bradlaugh led the mutineers, as they are humorously styled, into the lobby opposite Mr. Gladstone's adherents. Mr. Labouchere's motion that the committee be endowed with power to summon Sir F. Ponsonby and other managers of the Queen's affairs before it, and to compel the production of Her Majesty's private accounts, although resisted by a strong speech, Mr. Gladstone obtained the big minority of 136 votes. This is the greatest minority yet reached in a debate on royal grants.

A BOSTON TRAGEDY.

Boston, July 13.—A horrible tragedy was enacted in Somerville early this morning. The victim was Mrs. Catharine Smith, aged 45, and her son Thomas, aged 14. The perpetrator of the deed was August Rosenberg. Two other children of Mrs. Smith's were injured and one will die. Rosenberg had been living with Mrs. Smith for a year as her husband, but they were not married. The cause of the tragedy is not known, although it is stated Rosenberg has complained about the way he has been treated in money matters by the woman. The scene of the shooting was at the corner of Dane street and Dane court, Somerville, where Mrs. Smith lived. Since the disappearance of her first husband she has carried on a provision and grocery store business. This morning about one o'clock the neighbors were aroused by a number of pistol shots and the police were promptly notified. They entered the front door and found the dead body of Thos. Smith. He had evidently been shot in the forehead and had tried to reach the front door before falling dead. The body of of Mrs. Smith was found in bed. She had been shot in the right temple while asleep. Willie, her second son, aged 12, was found in a room in the attic shot through the body. He probably will die. Augustus, another son, aged 7 years, was also found in the attic shot in the mouth and physicians think his recovery possible. The youngest son named Charles, aged 5, was slightly wounded. He was in bed with his little sister, one year younger. After accomplishing this bloody work Rosenberg jumped from the window and for some time it was thought escaped, but shortly afterwards his dead body was found in Dane court, about 500 feet from the scene of the murder. No wound was visible and from the appearance of froth at his mouth it is supposed he either died in a fit or by poison. Rosenberg was the husband of Chas. Smith's sister, who died one year ago.

He had several children of his own living in Bow street court, Somerville. He went to live with Mrs. Smith shortly after the disappearance of her husband, who was generally believed to have suicided by jumping from a Portland steamer. Rosenberg is about 45 years old.

In an interview with a medical examiner, this morning, he says the wounds on Willie Smith show the bullet entered his back and penetrated the bowels, making death only a question of a few days. Augustus' injuries are but a flesh wound. He will recover.

HONOLULU NEWS.

San Francisco, July 13.—By the steamer Umatilla, which arrived from Honolulu this morning, it is learned that the U.S. warship, Adams, arrived there on the 4th inst. on her way to Samoa.

America's natal day was generally recognized as a holiday at Honolulu and was appropriately celebrated.

Wong Ah Hing, a young Chinaman who stabbed his uncle to death while visiting the latter's house, was sentenced to be hanged on September 6th.

HE EXPLAINS.

San Francisco, July 13.—Sheriff Robinson arrived here this morning from Soccorro, N. M., and will take back to that city D. D. Burlingame who, it is alleged, while cashier of a bank in that place, is said to have embezzled about $6,000. Burlingame denies having taken the money. He says his accounts are correct and that the money was lost in the ordinary course of business.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Stein, the Would-Be Suicide, Will Probably Live.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

Vancouver, B. C., July 12.—The weather has been slightly cooler during the last two days.

Several picnics were held yesterday with most satisfactory results.

An Indian was almost drowned yesterday morning by the upsetting of a scow loaded with sand at the city wharf. He was rescued, however, from the waters which threatened to engulf him.

Engineers were at work yesterday surveying for the proposed extension of sidewalks, etc., at the C. P. R. depot.

Work has begun for an extension to the Roman Catholic church, the contract having been awarded to Mr. Perrie.

About eleven o'clock last night a Chinaman was badly hurt by falling from a ladder, while in the act of nailing up a board on a small store on the south side of Dupont street. His nose was broken and his head severely cut by the fall.

Stein, who shot himself five times, on Tuesday morning, is improving.

Last evening East Hastings street was made unusually lively by one of the residents, who has made himself notorious on more than one occasion. Having watched with intoxicated interest the marvelous feats of the rope-walker, his ambition for distinction was aroused, and he determined to make it interesting for the bystanders, by attempting to drive over them with a horse and buggy. The street inspector, in whose buggy he was, took him in charge and drove him to his residence on Hastings street. He refused to be unseated, so Mr. Stevenson unhitched the horse and led him down town, leaving his charge sitting on the side of the street in the carriage. No sooner had he been left alone than the glories of Batoche and Fish Creek began to rise before his vision. Once more the dusky redskin fled before him on the plain or bit the dust from his unerring aim. With a war whoop that made the very hills to tremble, he sprang from the vehicle, rushed into the house, armed himself with his good winchester and took his position on the balcony, whence he proceeded to fire into the buggy with scientific effect. He discharged many a random shot into the ambient, one of which lodged in Capt. Couth's house across the way. Another passed in close proximity to Mr. Hemphill's cranium, while a third sang unwelcome music in the ear of the sturdy chief of police, who, with rapid stride was making for the scene of action. As his ammunition became exhausted he thought it wise to effect a truce which he did from the balcony in the following terms, if dame rumor is correct. I shall surrender my arms and war implements to the chief of police; throw open my house to inspection and likewise surrender myself a prisoner of war, provided, (1) that I be exonerated from all blame and that whisky, the instigator of the mischief, be held accountable and punished as the law demands. (2) That I be allowed to retain the position of chairman of the police committee. (3) That I shall henceforth be known as the only man in the city who dare do such foolhardy and outrageous deeds, and yet go unpunished. (4) That henceforth I shall be regarded as the hero of "Cutknife", "Fish Creek" and "Batoche", the "Dare Devil Mac" who feareth no evil nor regardeth the peace and safety of the citizens, and (5) that I be taken to the cooler for a few hours and when the thermometer shall have fallen to such a degree that it is no longer dangerous for men of my mental calibre to expose themselves to the rays of the sun, I may be liberated with honors and restored to the bosom of my terrified family, and when I again take my seat among the sages of the city, the chief and his staff shall be there to do honor to the event with the loudest of applause.

OTTAWA NOTES.

FROM ALASKA.

Latest News Brought by the Corona To-day.

The steamship Corona, Capt. Carroll, from Alaska, arrived at 8 o'clock this morning at Departure Bay, en route to this city which she will reach this evening and leave for Puget Sound about midnight.

On Douglas Island, the Alaska Gold Mining Company, who are opening up the Bear's Nest mine adjoining the celebrated Treadwell company's property, reached the lode on the 4th inst. with their tunnel. It looks first rate. The tunnel will be extended across the lode a distance of some five hundred feet. The company expect to have their mill, now in the course of erection, in running order by the 1st day of November next.

Mining interests in general in Alaska are very promising, a great deal being done in the way of development. The number of quartz mills now in operation is large and are all profitably employed.

The Corona experienced exceptionally good weather on the trip, as not a drop of rain fell during the voyage. It is the first thoroughly dry trip that Captain Carroll has enjoyed during a number of years aggregating 108 voyages to the "land of the midnight sun."

The fleet, under command of Admiral Heneage, which is now on its way to Alaska, was not seen by the captain of the Corona.

THE RAILWAY.

The Colonist does not take a very roseate view of the proposed Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster railway, and uses as a foil to the enterprise the size of the subsidy asked, together with that still nebulous scheme of the Island Railway's to establish a ferry near Chemainus connecting with the mainland. The arguments, however, which the Colonist uses to kill the Westminster-Blaine route as submitted by Mr. De Cosmos are completely nullified by its declaration of Victoria's "isolation." What does the argument against contracting a debt amount to compared with isolation and loss of commercial prestage? Why should Victoria decline to entertain a proposition whose fulfillment would make her the terminus of the Canadian Pacific on the strength of the rumor that the Island Railway contemplates a move in the same direction. This enterprise has been open to the Island Railway for sometime past, and we have heard nothing of it, but so soon as another company proposes to carry the scheme into effect, up pops our Island friends declaring a willingness to do the same thing. We appreciate the good intentions of the Island Railway, but we cannot give them the credence we would had it announced them to the public some months ago. It must have struck Victorians by this time that there is no kind of help like self help; that if they expect to overcome the disadvantages of isolation they must put up for it. No business man hesitates to contract a debt, when by so doing he extends his facilities for making money, and the rule is perfectly applicable to municipalities. Victoria boasts of the insignificance of her liabilities, but it is at the expense of imperfect drainage. She boasts of the magnificent harbor of Esquimalt, but she hesitates to transpose it from a naval rendezvous to a commercial mart, because it would cost a dollar or two. This is not business. It is contrary to precedent. The rule has been established that the thrift of cities depends largely on themselves, and particularly where the natural advantages are lacking. In our opinion a proposition involving advantages so important to Victoria, as presented in the ferry scheme, would have been accepted by any other city without one dissenting voice and the stock subscribed on the spot. The advantages of the proposed connection are two-fold. Victoria, to all essentials, would be the terminus of the Northern Pacific as well as of the Canadian Pacific railways. Blaine shortly must be in rail communication with Seattle, and when this happens merchandise may be transported from Esquimalt to Montreal and New York without breaking bulk. This is a plain proposition; there is nothing misty about it, and if Victoria will consult her best interests she will not wait for the parties who have schemes in contemplation, nor heed the unbusiness counsels of the Colonist, but take hold of the scheme which has been presented and push it to an early completion.

"OUR CAMBIE STREET CONTEMPORARY."

The unsophisticatedness which the News frequently displays, gives rise to the apprehension of its extreme gullibility, and indeed, taking into consideration the political affiliations of that journal, together with the assumption that the policy of the government is in strong correlation with the subtle procedure of "confidence men," the proof is indubitable that the News has been duped already. We are constrained to these remarks more in sorrow than in anger. Individual bias, or the promptings of venality, may induce a journal to advocate a bad cause, and still extort from the public the admission of its ability, but the journal which lacks worldly wisdom and is made in consequence a stalking horse for crafty politicians, if not forfeiting its honor, discounts its acumen and subjects itself to the implication of lack of individuality. If the News, from constitutional bias, or from the profound conviction that it knows which side of its bread is buttered, chooses to consort with the government, such is its privilege; but if its remarks, as exemplified in an editorial anent "Canadian," are the effect of its having been deceived, the spectacle is as humiliating to the journal as it is damaging to the government. The News, it appears, has been under the impression all along that the policy of the government was actuated by an intelligent conception of things, particularly in relation to the development of the interior. Somebody, however, over the nom de plume of "Canadian," has ventured an opposite opinion, fortifying it apparently with irrefragible proofs, and the News finds itself compelled to say that if such be true the relations of the government in the matter of the development of the interior, namely, the building of the NELSON & SPROAT'S landing wagon road, Kootenay, "are the reverse of that which has hitherto been held." "Canadian" states that so long ago as last winter a strong petition was sent to the government calling its attention to the necessity of a wagon road between the points just mentioned, and the News concludes that if such is the case the government has been derelict. As a matter of fact "Canadian" has put it mildly. The government's attention was called to the necessity of making Kootenay accessible since two years past, and yet the News, with an ingeniousness which would make a "haymaker" blush, professes to have known nothing of it. Is it possible that the News has been so gulled and that its acknowledgment of the remissness of the government is the outpouring of an innocent heart? An open confession is good for the soul, particularly, if as we may suspect, "Canadian's" denouement is no revelation to the News. If, on the other hand, it is a revelation to the News, the lamentable impression is conveyed of that journal's gullibility; that it has in a word, been made the innocent dupe of political "confidence men." Exhibitions of blind, unreasoning faith in gospel teachings command the admiration of sceptics, but the journal so little worldly wise as to be misled by shallow political craftsmen does itself irreparable damage without materially benefitting the cause it espouses or the abuse it condemns.

But what is the News going to do in case the government declines to build the wagon road before snow flies? Eat crow? We cannot suppose that the government will hasten to build the road. Certainly the clamor of the News will not bring it about. The government will scarcely heed the demands of its dupe. But let us pass in review what the government's mossback policy has cost the province. We can do that by briefly referring to Kootenay's present source of supplies. Spokane Falls five years ago contained possibly 2500 inhabitants. To-day it numbers nearly 30,000, and the Kootenay mines have contributed largely to this phenomenal growth. The Spokane people having faith in the "reports of prospectors, promptly went to work and built a wagon road to Kootenay. Freighting and travel both were diverted to the American side, and Revelstoke, the natural supply point, has languished a mere hamlet. The government were fully informed of the progress of the Kootenay mines. It was represented to the government by good engineering authority, that communication should be had with Kootenay via Revelstoke. The government, however, paid no heed to these representations. No statement, however reliable, and corroborated by the activity of the Americans, was sufficient to rouse the Government to a proper sense of its duty. Kootenay was a fake. The News, however, need not despair. The wagon road season is drawing nigh. As the government's term of office draws to a close, its predilection for wagon roads and other kinds of electioneering sop will materialize. The "pap" bottle will be uncorked, and the nozzle passed round among the recalcitrant and vacillating. The government in a word will undertake to perpetuate the little picnic it is enjoying by springing on the public its internal development fake. The News, however, should have commented more cautiously on "Canadian's" letter. Such breaks as these unsettle public opinion, and render the perpetuity of the government less certain. The News must be careful or its diatribes, whether honest or malicious, will bring it next year in opposition to the government.

POLITICS AT SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

At the teachers' examination yesterday afternoon, the Provincial Secretary took occasion, as usual, to harangue teachers and prospective teachers, present, on the shortcomings of his political enemies. It is difficult to see what connection the subject had with the fitness of the candidates to teach the youth of the province, or why this political bull-dozer should intrude his suggestive presence in any way whatever. It is enough that the government should have the power to appoint examiners without the active interference of the ministers in the examination. And especially so in this case, Mr. ROBSON has taken occasion at every school examination, in season and out of season to make semi-political and partizan speeches, pursuing that course with a perseverance worthy of the crank who drums his hobby into the ears of any and every one who will stand long enough to listen to him. The presence, therefore, of one so intensely partizan, at the examination, is not calculated to inspire the greatest degree of confidence among either the candidates or the public.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY.

To-morrow, Sunday, the 14th instant, collections will be taken up at morning and evening services in nearly all of the places of worship of every denomination for the benefit of the funds of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. It is to be hoped that Hospital Sunday will then be placed on a solid basis, and become a permanent institution with us, and we feel certain it will become a valuable source of income in future years if successfully carried out, towards the maintenance of the new hospital now in course of erection. Another view may be taken of the matter, that in thus giving voluntarily towards so worthy an object, compulsory taxation will be completely avoided, as the claims on the hospital and other charitable institutions of our city are daily becoming more numerous owing to the increased arrivals and permanent addition to the population.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lord Tennyson is to receive $1000 for the poem he is now writing. His first accepted poem brought him the munificent sum of ten shillings.

The sale of Cardinal Gibbons' "Faith of Our Fathers" has reached 170,000 copies. It is safe to say that no work of a Catholic author published in America ever had such a circulation.

When Cromwell first coined money, the inscription on one side of the coin was, "God with us;" and on the other side, "The Commonwealth of England." A cavalier said, "God and the Commonwealth are on different sides."

The eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, who is to marry the Earl of Fife, is said to have but little claim to good looks. Her face is long and angular but the expression is pleasing. Of the three princesses the youngest is the prettiest. They all dress alike and are very quiet in public but are vivacious enough when by themselves.

A novel scheme to raise the sunken British warship the Sultan is now being considered by the Admiralty. Mr. Whiteside Smith proposes to raise the ship at an estimated cost of about £1500 by making the deck sound and then blowing the water out of the leaks. Hydrogen is the agent to be employed, and can be produced in sufficient quantities on barges on the spot by the action of sulphuric acid upon zinc. The feasibility of the plan has been demonstrated so far by models, and it is not unlikely that the experiment will be tried.

The Winnipeg Free Press says: "Mr. A. F. Martin, M. P. P., is credited by the Sun with suggesting that 'it would be a fitting tribute to the memory of the deceased if the constituency of Kildonan would return Mr. Norquay's eldest son, Thomas, by acclamation to represent them. He felt sure the government would offer no opposition to the young man.' By all means let it be done." Here we have another advocate of heredity in politics. We thought better of the Liberalism of the Free Press. If young Mr. Norquay has abilities of his own that fit him for the position of representative he will get there; if he has not, what right has he to become a legislator?

The news that Wilkie Collins, the greatest of English novelists, has been stricken with paralysis, will be received with deep regret. Wilkie Collins' writings are read and admired wherever the English language is spoken. His father, William Collins, was an eminent English painter and a member of the Royal Academy. The novelist's first venture in literature was a biography of his father, who died in 1848. Young Collins was then twenty-four years old. After spending some years in the tea trade and in studying law, he devoted his whole attention to literature. His first great novel was "Antonian, or the Fall of Rome," published in 1850. Soon after he became a contributor to the current periodicals of the time, and his later novels have been published in serial form. Mr. Collins has written three dramas—"The Frozen Deep;" "The Lighthouse" and "Black and White." Some of his short stories are models of pure English and rare genius.

The Power that Moves the World

FIRST ANNUAL TOUR

—OF—

D. McLENNAN

—OF—

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

THIS WONDERFUL MASTER OF THE Healing Art has arrived in the city, where he intends to remain for a short time, to cure the sick and afflicted of this vicinity. He comes to us laden with testimonials from the leading citizens of California and the Sound. In San Francisco he has practiced for the past sixteen years, and the authenticated reports of some of his cures seem nothing short of miraculous. He uses no medicine and performs his cures mostly by the WONDERFUL POWER OF MAGNETISM, the gift of but few men on earth. This is the only method of treatment that restores the life-giving principle, magnetism, to the system, thereby increasing the vital powers and electrifying the nervous system, sending the blood coursing and bounding through the veins, withdrawing and allaying in a few minutes all pains and aches from whatever source.

The diseases which yield most readily to the curative agency of this method, as practiced by McLennan, are: Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Deafness, Eruptions, Gravel, Paralysis, Loss of Voice, Wakefulness, Diarrhoea, Dropsy, Fits, Piles, Scrofula, Swellings, Wens, Spinal Complaints, Cold Feet and Hands, Biliousness, Contracted Limbs, Diseased Kidneys, Erysipelas, Nervous Depressions, St. Vitus's Dance, Weak and Failing Limbs, Mental Depressions, Diseases of the Brain, Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Stricture, Impotence, Tape Worm, Carbuncles, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, Seminal Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh, Heart Disease, Fever Sores, Lameness, Rheumatism, Swollen Joints, Weak Lungs, Gout, Goitre, Coughs, Diseases of the Eyes, Neuralgia, Tumors, Tetters, Cancers, White Swellings, Leucorrhoea, Ague and Fever, Milk Leg, etc.

OUR HOUSE ON THE HILLS.

SUBJECT OF SERMON DELIVERED BY DR. TALMAGE, SUNDAY, JULY 7.

A House the Favorite Biblical Simile for Heaven—"In My Father's House Are Many Rooms"—The Doctor's Idea of What the Home of the Blest Will Be.

THE HAMPTONS, N. Y., July 7.—Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., preached here today on the subject: "Our House on the Hills." His text was John xiv, 2: "In my Father's house are many rooms." He said:

Here is a bottle of medicine that is a cure all. The disciples were sad and Christ offered heaven as an alternative, a stimulant and a tonic. He shows them that their sorrows are only a dark background for a bright picture of coming felicity. He lets them know that though now they live on the lowlands they shall yet have a house on the uplands. Nearly all the Bible descriptions of heaven may be figurative. I am not positive that in all heaven there is a literal crown, or harp, or pearly gate, or throne or chariot. They may be only used to illustrate the glories of the place, but how well they do it! The favorite symbol by which the Bible presents celestial happiness is a house. Paul, who never owned a house, although he hired one for two years in Italy, speaks of heaven as a "house not made with hands," and Christ in our text, the translation of which is a little changed, so as to give the more accurate meaning, says: "In my Father's house are many rooms."

This divinely authorized comparison of heaven to a great homestead of large accommodations I propose to carry out. In some healthy neighborhood a man builds a very commodious habitation. He must have room for all his children. The rooms come to be called after the different members of the family. That is mother's room. That is George's room. That is Henry's room. That is Flora's room. That is Mary's room. And the house is all occupied. But time goes by and the sons go out into the world and build their own homes and the daughters are married or have talents enough singly to go out and do a good work in the world. After a while the father and mother are almost alone in the big house and, seated by the evening stand, they say: "Well, our family is no larger now than when we started together forty years ago." But time goes still further by and some of the children are unfortunate and return to the old homestead to live, and the grandchildren come with them, and perhaps great-grandchildren, and again the house is full. Many millennia ago God built on the hills of heaven a great homestead for a family innumerable, yet to be. At first he lived alone in that great house, but after a while it was occupied by a very large family, cherubic, seraphic, angelic. The eternities passed on and many of the inhabitants became wayward and left, never to return. And many of the apartments were vacated. I refer to the fallen angels. Now these apartments are filling up again. There are arrivals at the old homestead of God's children every day, and the day will come when there will be no unoccupied room in all the house.

"IN MY FATHER'S HOUSE ARE MANY ROOMS"

As you and I expect to enter it and make there eternal residence, I thought you would like to get some more particulars about that many roomed homestead. "In my Father's house are many rooms." You see the place is to be apportioned off into apartments. We shall love all who are in heaven, but there are some very good people whom we would not want to live with in the same room. They may be better than we are, but they are of a divergent temperament. We would like to meet with them on the golden streets and worship with them in the temple and walk with them on the river banks, but I am glad to say that we shall live in different apartments. "In my Father's house are many rooms." You see heaven will be so large that if one want an entire room to himself or herself, it can be afforded. An ingenious statistician, taking the statement made in Revelation, twenty-first chapter, that the heavenly Jerusalem was measured and found to be twelve thousand furlongs, and that the length and height and breadth of it are equal, says that would make heaven in size 948 sextillion 988 quintillion cubic feet, and then reserving a certain portion for the court of heaven and the streets, and estimating that the world may last a hundred thousand years, he ciphers out that there are over five trillion rooms, each room seventeen feet long, sixteen feet wide, fifteen feet high. But I have no faith in the accuracy of that calculation. He makes the rooms too small. From all I can read the rooms will be palatial, and those who have not had enough room in this world will have plenty of room at the last. The fact is that most people in this world are crowded, and though out on a vast prairie or in a mountain district people may have more room than they want, in most cases it is house built close to house, and the streets are crowded and the cradle is crowded by other cradles, and the grave crowded in the cemetery by other graves, and one of the richest luxuries of many people in getting out of this world will be the gaining of unhindered and uncramped room. And I should not wonder if, instead of the room that the statistician ciphered out as only 17 feet by 16, it should be larger than any of the imperial rooms at Berlin, St. James or Winter Palace. "In my Father's house are many rooms." Carrying out still further the symbolism of the text, let us join hands and go up to this majestic homestead and see for ourselves.

WE WILL BE USHERED IN.

As we ascend the golden steps an invisible guardsman swings open the front door, and we are ushered to the right into the reception room of the old homestead. That is the place where we first meet the welcome of heaven. There must be a place where the departed spirit enters and a place in which it confronts the inhabitants celestial. The reception room of the newly arrived from this world—what scenes it must have witnessed since the first guest arrived, the victim of the first fratricide, pious Abel. In that room Christ lovingly greeted all new comers. He redeemed them and he has the right to the first embrace on their arrival. What a minute when the ascended spirit first sees the Lord. Better than all we ever read about him or talked about him or sang about him in all the churches and through all our earthly lifetime, will it be, just for one second to see him. The most rapturous idea we ever had of him on sacramental days, or at the height of some great revival, or under the uplifted baton of an oratorio, are a bankruptcy of thought compared with the first flash of his appearance in that reception room.

At that moment, when you confront each other, Christ looking upon you and you looking upon Christ, there will be an ecstatic thrill and a surging of emotion that beggars all description. Look! They need no introduction. Long ago Christ chose that repentant sinner and that repentant sinner chose Christ. Mightiest moment of an immortal history—the first kiss of heaven! Jesus and the soul. The soul and Jesus.

But now into that reception room pour the glorified kinsfolk. Enough of earthly recognition to let you know them, but without their wounds or their sickness or their troubles. See what heaven has done for them. So radiant, so gleeful, so transportingly lovely. They call you by name. They greet you with an ardor proportioned to the anguish of your parting and the length of your separation. Father! Mother! There is your child. Sisters! Brothers! Friends! I wish you joy. For years apart, together again in the reception room of the old homestead. You see they will know you are coming. There are so many immortals filling all the spaces between here and heaven that news like that flies like lightning. They will be there in an instant; though they were in some other world on errand from God a signal would be thrown that would fetch them. Though you might at first feel dazed and overawed at their supernal splendor, all that feeling will be gone at their first touch of heavenly salutation and you will say: "O my lost boy," "O my lost companion," "O my lost friend, are we here together?" What scenes have been witnessed in that reception room of the old homestead! There met Joseph and Jacob, finding it a brighter room than anything they saw in Pharaoh's palace; David and the little child for whom he once fasted and wept; Mary and Lazarus after the heartbreak of Bethany; Timothy and grandmother Lois; Isabella Graham and her sailor son, Alfred and George Cookman, the mystery of the sea at last made manifest; Luther and Magdalene, the daughter he bemoaned; John Howard and the prisoners whom he gospelized; and multitudes without number who, once so weary and once so sad, parted on earth but gloriously met in heaven. Among all the rooms of that house there is not one that more enraptures my soul than that reception room. "In my Father's house are many rooms."

WE ARE OF THE ROYAL FAMILY.

Another room in our Father's house is the throne room. We belong to the royal family. The blood of King Jesus flows in our veins, so we have a right to enter the throne room. It is no easy thing on earth to get through even the outside door of a king's residence. During the Franco-German war one eventide in the summer of 1870 I stood studying the exquisite sculpturing of the gate of the Tuileries, Paris. Lost in admiration of the wonderful art of that gate, I knew not that I was exciting suspicion. Lowering my eyes to the crowds of people I found myself being closely inspected by governmental officials, who from my complexion judged me to be a German, and that for some belligerent purpose I might be examining the gates of the palace. My explanations in very poor French did not satisfy them and they followed me long distances until I reached my hotel, and were not satisfied until from my landlord they found that I was only an inoffensive American. The gates of earthly palaces are carefully guarded, and, if so, how much more severely the throne room! A dazzling place is it for mirrors and all costly art. No one who ever saw the throne room of the first and only Napoleon will ever forget the letter N embroidered in purple and gold on the upholstery of chair and window, the letter N gilded on the wall, the letter N chased on the chalices, the letter N flaming from the ceiling. What a conflagration of brilliance the throne room of Charles Immanuel of Sardinia, of Ferdinand of Spain, of Elizabeth of England, of Boniface of Italy! But the throne room of our Father's house hath a glory eclipsing all the throne rooms that ever saw scepter wave, or crown glitter, or foreign ambassador bow, for our Father's throne is a throne of grace, a throne of mercy, a throne of holiness, a throne of justice, a throne of universal dominion. We need not stand shivering and cowering before it, for our Father says we may yet one day come up and sit on it beside him. "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne." You see we are princes and princesses. Perhaps now we move about incognito, as Peter the Great in the garb of a ship carpenter at Amsterdam, or as Queen Tirzah in the dress of a peasant woman seeking the prophet for her child's cure; but it will be found out after a while who we are when we get into the throne room. Aye, we need not wait until then. We may by prayer and song and spiritual uplifting this moment enter the throne room. O King, live forever! We touch the forgiving scepter and prostrate ourselves at thy feet! The crowns of the royal families of this world are tossed about from generation to generation and from family to family. There are children four years old in Berlin who have seen the crown on three emperors. But wherever the coronets of this world rise or fall, they are destined to meet in one place. And I look and see them coming from north and south and east and west, the Spanish crown, the Italian crown, the English crown, the Turkish crown, the Russian crown, the Persian crown—aye, all the crowns from under the great archivolt of heaven; and while I watch and wonder they are all flung in rain of diamonds around the pierced feet.

Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore
Till suns shall rise and set no more.

Oh, that throne room of Christ! "In my Father's house are many rooms."

PLENTY OF MUSIC IN HEAVEN.

Another room in our Father's house is the music room. St. John and other Bible writers talk so much about the music of heaven that there must be music there, perhaps not such as on earth was thrummed from trembling string or evoked by touch of ivory key, but if not that, then something better. There are so many Christian harpists and Christian composers and Christian organists and Christian choristers and Christian hymnologists that have gone up from earth, there must be for them some place of especial delectation. Shall we have music in this world of discords and no music in the land of complete harmony? I cannot give you the notes of the first bar of the new song that is sung in heaven, I cannot imagine either the solo or the doxology. But all this Bible talk about stringed and wind instruments in heaven means music, and can mean nothing else. Occasionally that music has escaped the gate. Doctor Fuller dying at Beaufort, S. C., said: "Do you not hear?" "Hear what?" exclaimed the bystanders. "The music! Lift me up! Open the window!" In that music room of our Father's house you will some day meet the old Christian masters, Mozart and Handel and Mendelssohn and Beethoven; and Doddridge, whose sacred poetry was as remarkable as his sacred prose, and James Montgomery, and William Cowper at last got rid of his spiritual melancholy; and Bishop Heber, who sang of "Greenland's icy mountains and India's coral strand;" and Dr. Raffles, who wrote of "High in yonder realms of light;" and Isaac Watts, who went to visit Sir Thomas Abney and wife for a week, but proved himself so agreeable a guest that they made him stay thirty-six years; and, side by side, Augustus Toplady, who has got over his dislike for Methodists, and Charles Wesley freed from his dislike for Calvinists; and George W. Bethune, as sweet a song maker as he was great as a preacher, and the author of "The Village Hymns;" and many who wrote in verse or song, in church or by eventide cradle, and many who were passionately fond of music, but could make none themselves. The poorest singer there more than any earthly prima donna, and the poorest players there more than any earthly Gottschalk. Oh! that music room, the headquarters of cadence and rhythm, symphony and chant, psalm and antiphon! May we be there some hour when Haydn sits at the keys of one of his own oratorios, and David the psalmist fingers the harp, and Miriam of the Red Sea banks claps the cymbals, and Gabriel puts his lips to the trumpet, and the four-and-twenty soldiers chant, and Lind and Parepa render matchless duet in the music room of the old heavenly homestead. "In my Father's house are many rooms."

ROOMS FOR THE FAMILY.

Another room in our Father's house will be the family room. It may correspond somewhat with the family room on earth. At morning and evening, you know, that is the place we now meet. Though every member of the household have a separate room, in the family room they all gather, and joys and sorrows and experiences of all styles are there rehearsed. Sacred room in all our dwellings! whether it be luxurious with ottomans and divans and books in Russian lids standing in mahogany case, or there be only a few plain chairs and a cradle. So the family room on high will be the place where the kinsfolk assemble and talk over the family experiences of earth, the weddings, the births, the burials, the festal days of Christmas and Thanksgiving reunion. Will the children departed remain children there? Will the aged remain aged there? Oh, no; everything is perfect there. The child will go ahead to glorified maturity and the aged will go back to glorified maturity. The rising sun of the one will rise to meridian and the descending sun of the other will return to meridian. However much we love children on earth, we would consider it a domestic disaster if they stayed children, and so we rejoice at their growth here. And when we meet in the family room of our Father's house we will be glad that they have grandly and gloriously matured, while our parents, who were aged and infirm here, we shall be glad to find restored to the most agile and vigorous immortality there. If forty or forty-five or fifty years be the apex of physical and mental life on earth, then the heavenly childhood will advance to that and the heavenly old age will retreat to that.

When we join them in that family room we shall have much to tell them. We shall want to know of them right away such things as this: Did you see us in this or that or the other struggle? Did you know when we lost our property and sympathize with us? Did you know we had that awful sickness? Were you hovering anywhere around when we plunged into that memorable accident? Did you know of our backsliding? Did you know of that moral victory? Were you pleased when we started for heaven? Did you celebrate the hour of our conversion? And then, whether they know it or not, we will tell them all. But they will have more to tell us than we to tell them. Ten years on earth may be very eventful, but what must be the biography of ten years in heaven! They will have to tell us the story of coronations, story of news from all immensity, story of conquerors and hierarchs, story of wrecked or ransomed planets, story of angelic victory over diabolic revolts, of extinguished suns, of obliterated constellations, of new galaxies kindled and swung; of stranded comets, of worlds on fire, and story of Jehovah's majestic reign. If in that family room of our Father's house we have so much to tell them of what we have passed through since we parted, how much more thrilling and arousing that which they have to tell us of what they have passed through since we parted. Surely that family room will be one of the most favored rooms in all our Father's house. What long lingering there, for we shall never again be in a hurry. "Let me open a window," said an humble Christian servant to Lady Raffles, who, because of the death of her child, had shut herself up in a dark room and refused to see any one; "you have been many days in this dark room. Are you not ashamed to grieve in this manner when you ought to be thanking God for having given you the most beautiful child that ever was seen, and instead of leaving him in this world till he should be worn with trouble, has not God taken him to heaven in all his beauty? Leave off weeping and let me open a window." So today I am trying to open upon the darkness of earthly separation the windows and doors and rooms of the heavenly homestead. "In my Father's house are many rooms."

IN CONCLUSION.

How would it do for my sermon to leave you in that family room today? I am sure there is no room in which you would rather stay than in the enraptured circle of your ascended and glorified kinsfolk. We might visit other rooms in our Father's house. There may be picture galleries pencilled not with earthly art but by some process, unknown in this world, preserving for the next world the brightest and most stupendous scenes of human history. And there may be lines and forms of earthly beauty preserved for heavenly inspection in something whiter and chaster and richer than Venetian sculpture ever wrought. Rooms beside rooms. Rooms over rooms. Large rooms. Majestic rooms, opalescent rooms, amethystine rooms. "In my Father's house are many rooms."

I hope none of us will be disappointed about getting there. There is a room for us if we will go and take it, but in order to reach it it is absolutely necessary that we take the right way, and Christ is the way; and we must enter at the right door, and Christ is the door; and we must start in time, and the only hour you are sure of is the hour the clock now strikes, and the only second the one your watch is now ticking. I hold in my hand a roll of letters inviting you all to make that your home forever. The New Testament is only a roll of letters inviting you, as the spirit of them practically says: "My dying yet immortal child in earthly neighborhood, I have built for you a great residence. It is full of rooms. I have furnished them as no palace was ever furnished. Pearls are nothing, emeralds are nothing, chrysophrasus is nothing; illumined panels of sunrise and sunset, nothing; the aurora of the northern heavens, nothing—compared with the splendor with which I have garnitured them. But you must be clean before you can enter there, and so I have opened a fountain where you may wash all your sins away. Come now! Put your weary but cleansed feet on the upward pathway. Do you not see amid the thick foliage on the heavenly hilltops the old family homestead?" "In my father's house are many rooms."

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The milkman's dance—the can-can.

—Use the safe, pleasant and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

—Good manners are the blossom of good sense.

—Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

—When winter's reign is over we have spring rain.

—Hacking coughs lacerate the lungs and beget consumption; consumption fills our cemeteries. If nipped in the bud with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, the destructive malady is deprived of its power. Pain is also subdued by this benign healing agent—corns, sores, frost-bites, burns and other troubles.

—The girls do like to go to the base-ball games so much. They are sure to see some good "catches" there.

—Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with dyspepsia, costiveness, inward piles and kidney complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

—There is a great deal of difference between a light bill and a bill for light. If you don't believe it, ask the gas company.

—The true philosophy of Medication is not to dose for symptoms, but to root out disease. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic cure, the great blood purifier, has proved itself equal to this task. It is a most searching without being a violent remedy for constipation, billiousness and indigestion. It is as well adapted to the needs and physical temperaments of delicate females as to the more robust sex, and is a fine preventive of disease as well as remedy for it.

—A sufferer sends in this one: Why is a bounced government clerk like a rusty shotgun? Because he kicks when he's fired.

—James Cullen, Pool's Island, N. F., writes:—"I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my 'rheumatic neighbors' (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.
TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.
As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.
In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

V. I. B. S.

The regular meeting of the Vancouver Island Building Society was held at Harmony Hall last evening for the purpose of drawing the thirty-seventh appropriation. No. 101 was the successful number, held by Geo. Phillips and Mrs. Ann Davey.

For Alaska.

The Ancon for Alaska will not leave here for the north until to-morrow, at an hour not yet definitely known. The passenger list is, as usual, a heavy one of wealthy eastern tourists. For freight she has 600 tons from Tacoma and Seattle which will be considerably augmented at Port Townsend.

The Vancouver Strike.

On Thursday morning the strike was finally settled by the contractors meeting with the demands of the men. The nine hour system is conceded for all contractors, men, and three hours off on Saturday afternoon will be allowed the carpenters in the mills. All men employed since the strike began, it was stipulated, were to be discharged before the old men went back to work.

More Steamers.

The O. R. & N. Co. have decided to place the steamer Alki on the Portland-British Columbia route in conjunction with the steamers Idaho and Michigan. If these three vessels cannot fill the bill the company will put on more. The Alki recently came down from Alaska, in which waters she picked up a buoy which had drifted from the Columbia river bar, a distance of 1600 miles.

Russel Alger and family, ex-Senator Platt and Mrs. Platt, Leigh Hunt, of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and Mrs. Hunt and other notables. The party lunched at the Driard.

Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army are again drawing large audiences at New Westminster. It appears that the Army has received an important addition of talent in the person of a young woman from the east who sings very finely and is an orator of considerable power. She is Scotch and her rendering of some of the Salvation songs written in that language has excited uncommon interest and there have been several overflowing meetings lately.

For the South.

The City of Puebla sailed at one o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco with the following passengers from this port: D. R. Ker, T. A. Ker, J. Lenz, L. Fauth, Mr. Johnson and wife, Miss Emma Wickman, Miss Annie Byers, Miss McCue, Miss Norton, Miss Molloy, Miss J. C. Falconer, W. W. Farley, Mrs. Wm. Wilson, W. Blackie, Mrs. D. Spencer, J. W. Macfie, Mrs. Raynes, Miss Richardson, Miss Atrian.

Anti-Jesuit Resolution.

At the Orange gathering yesterday, it was moved by Dr. Cooper, seconded by Mr. Eli Higgins, "that this meeting disapproves of the vote cast by the representatives of this province in the Federal parliament at Ottawa against the motion of Colonel O'Brien respecting the disallowance of the Jesuits' estates bill; and, furthermore, it heartily endorses the noble action of the thirteen members who voted in its favor." Carried unanimously.

Nipped in the Bud.

A blaze which might have been attended with serious consequences was nipped in the bud yesterday afternoon. A gentleman walking on the trestle opposite the Reformed church discovered the grass and underbrush in the orchard opposite the church to be ablaze. Jumping the fence he hastened to St. Ann's Convent, where a couple of buckets of water was procured and the fire extinguished. The cause of the blaze is supposed to have been from a lighted cigar butt.

Unique Amusement.

Hon. Alexander Badlam, of San Francisco, is going north on the Ancon. Mr. Badlam is president of the Mutual Life Insurance Association of San Francisco. Mr. Badlam, who is a printer by trade, and his friends will amuse themselves on the way to Alaska by printing a small newspaper on board of the Ancon. They have secured a case of type, a small press and some cuts of various objects. The paper will be distributed to the passengers aboard the Ancon and to the Alaskans. Mr. Badlam has promised to reserve copies of the papers for friends on his return.

Rough Passage.

The ship Valley Forge, which arrived late Friday night at San Francisco, reports that she left Departure bay Wednesday night, June 16th. She was towed to Race Rocks, where the tug broke down and had to let go the hawser. Sail was made and the vessel worked out of the straits against a strong westerly wind. Passed Cape Flattery Saturday, June 22d. Thence to 45 deg. 30 min. N., 125 deg. 16 min. W., had a very heavy gale from S. to S.S.E., with very heavy sea. Lost several sails. The gale lasted thirty-six hours. Thence to port light baffling winds were encountered.

The Chinese Mission.

The Chinese Mission building, erected for the Methodist Missionary Society at Vancouver, has been completed with the exception of a few extra touches, and is now in use for the purpose for which it was erected. The building is a large and sightly one, with chapel, school-room, reading-room, residence for missionary, and on the upper flat, lodging-rooms for Christian Chinese. The above premises were the scene of a festive party Thursday night, the occasion being the return from Ontario of Mrs. Monck to resume the charge of the Mission School, of which she was the principal from its organization until the date of her departure to the east, in September last, at which time she was presented by her Chinese pupils with a beautiful gold watch and chain.

The Railway Ferry.

The good people of Vancouver do not take kindly to the proposition to construct a railway and railway ferry to connect Vancouver Island with the mainland. The World is moved to remark as follows: "The TIMES regards the scheme as a feasible one and that the distance between the Royal and the Capital City can be covered in two and a half hours. This is a case of man contending with physical impossibilities. Those who know anything about railway ferries will at once smile at the absurdity of claiming that some thirty miles of a gulf—which at times is so rough and boisterous that Victoria's crack steamers have to lay to for days in Plumpers Pass, being unable to face the uncontrollable billows which at times, run mountains high in the Gulf—can be crossed in an hour. It may be a case of man accomplishing that which Nature evidently intended should never be achieved. From Vancouver and vice versa the run is made in five hours, and that is fast enough for all present requirements. When the time comes that a shortening up of the time is necessary, we are of the opinion that another route than that proposed will be adopted. The water stretch will be far less, but the distance by rail slightly greater." As the World is interested only in Vancouver its position is excusable if not justifiable, but at the same time that kind of argument will not delay construction for a moment.

COMMENTS AND NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Macleod—Imperial Federation—Anti-Jesuit Agitation.

The Rev. P. McF. Macleod has returned from his trip to the east like Moses from the fair and has brought with him the usual case of spectacles. The biggest among them is Imperial federation. The name also has a fine ringing sound that predisposes us to admiration of the sentiment it embodies. The four syllables roll majestically off the tongue, and few who have an ear for rhythm can resist their cadence. They conjure up visions of might, and power and glory, until our imagination revels with delight in the picture of a boundless empire, on which the sun never sets, welded into harmonious union, and animated by one predominant feeling. We are almost drowned in an intoxicating dream of imperial splendor, and only require to go a step further to rejoice, without suspecting any pathos in the sentiment, that though we might have been "a Roosbun, a Frenchman or a Proosbun," we yet are Englishmen. Mr. Macleod has not the brow of an idealist, and yet he has been led away by the vision from those paths of practical common sense to which he generally confines himself. No doubt, unity, peace and concord were the magic words that enchanted him, for it would be doing Mr. Macleod a great injustice to suppose, for one moment, that he fell a victim to a mere vain-glorious desire for the predominance of his own country.

All Englishmen ardently desire that their present connection with their wide-spreading colonies may long continue, and that the unity of the empire may be preserved intact. On the whole the relations between the mother country and her dependencies have been of the most amicable description. Indeed, it is the cordial feelings that they bear to one another, and no rising cloud of dispute on the horizon, that has suggested the possibility of an even closer alliance. But if the union of hearts has hitherto proved sufficient why should it be bolstered up by artificial enactments? Sentiment is a great force, and so long as that binds us together we shall continue in childlike relations with the mother land; but should it ever be extinguished the artificial bonds will be instantly broken, and without a pang. To create a set of circumstances that would endanger this sentiment would therefore be to incur a great risk of separation; and to have done it with good intentions would make no material difference in the results.

Federation implies a union for certain definite purposes, concerning which there would be a previous mutual agreement. The United States form one great federation. The separate states enjoy local self-government and complete independence of one another. The central government decides those questions alone, which are common to all, and the most important of these, in every federation must be the tariff rates and the foreign policy. But would Canada, or Australia, submit to have their tariffs fixed in London? Would they submit without a murmur to increased taxation in order to assist in an European war? These are the test questions which advocates of our Imperial federation must answer. Canada sent her contingent of troops to the assistance of England in Egypt, but she did it voluntarily, from sentiment. Had a proportionate assistance been demanded as a right, and accepted as a matter of course, without any special gratitude, there would probably have been a cry of dissatisfaction throughout the Dominion. Many English workmen look to federation as a cure for bad trade, for the removal of protective duties would throw the markets of the colonies open to them. But colonial manufacturers look at the question from a different point of view, and, at present, it would scarcely be possible for them to agree harmoniously even as to a compromise. Suppose, however, that we could all agree to refer these questions in which we should have a common interest, to a central council, or house of representatives, elected by England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland and the colonies. If representation were in proportion to population Great Britain and Ireland would secure an enormous majority in the house, and that fact would be an obvious focus for all colonial discontent; if, on the other hand, the states, and not the people, were to elect representatives the colonies would be in a majority, and able to dictate England's policy. No doubt we should do it wisely and well, but whether England is any more likely to submit to be ruled from outside than we are is not quite so certain. Decentralization seems to be the order of the day at present, and though that is a principle that may be carried too far, Imperial federation suggests too many complications to be likely to prove a successful antidote.

To preserve unity even among the federated states of the Dominion is not always easy, and the anti Jesuit agitation, that is at present raging throughout Ontario, will not promote the national feeling which Mr. Macleod and all loyal Canadians would like to help to create. The Pope, of course, is a tremendous bugbear, and introduces a foreign element; but call him by another name, call him, for instance, the moderator of a synod, not of cardinals, but of presbyters, (a description which is fairly accurate) and then we shall be better able to judge with unprejudiced minds whether the reference to him of questions concerning the disposal of lands belonging to the church of which he is the recognized head, by the members of that church, is really an act of treason either against our sovereign lady Queen Victoria or the constitution of Canada. But whether it is, or is not; whether the Quebec legislature was acting within its rights in passing the bill in the settlement of the Jesuits, estates, or whether it exceeded them, are questions of law and not of sentiment. What we outsiders wish is not a matter of any consequence. If Canada is to become a nation we must learn to tolerate traditions, forms of religion, and prejudices different from our own. We must not do evil that good may ensue. We must not foment religious strife, nor stir up antagonistic race feelings, but we must practise justice and charity, and trust that the result will be the development of orderly progress and truth.

We Protestants are not without popes of our own, but we keep them in a healthy atmosphere of criticism, and question their decisions and opinions with a daring that is amazing. The discipline may not be pleasant for them, but it is wholesome, and should be accepted as a praiseworthy attempt at reciprocity. We fear lest Mr. Macleod, if he honors us by reading our desultory comments, may be tempted to consign us to hopeless regions for Jesuitical reasoning, and may even suspect us of being Jesuits in disguise. Jesuit is as powerful a word to conjure with as that of Pope, and Jesuit and Pope combined are sufficient to create a great political crisis. Yet the motto of the Jesuit order was "To God's Greater Glory," Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam, and the vow that specially distinguished it was the vow of the members to go as missionaries into any part of the world that might be indicated to them. They seem to have been inspired by very much the same sort of spirits as the heroic Rev. Mr. Wadman.

New France, as Canada was called in the early days of its history, was given to the Jesuits by the French king as a field of labor, and the story of the martyrdom of the devoted men who first carried the Gospel of Christ to the Indian tribes, north and south of the St. Lawrence, is one of the most pathetic records of heroism and self-devotion. A statue has just been erected at Quebec to the memory of Jaques Cartier and Brebœuf. The former, as everyone knows, first made Canada known to the old world. The latter was the manliest and noblest of the Jesuit missionaries, whose memory is one of the most treasured inheritances of the French Canadians. Protestant intolerance will only serve, if successful, to separate us from our French fellow countrymen with whom it has hitherto been our boast that we have lived at peace, and no system of Imperial Federation that the wit of man can devise will compensate us for a divided Canadian nation.

Salmon Running.

Capt. Cavin of the Rainbow, which arrived this afternoon, reports salmon running fairly on the Fraser. At three canneries which he touched at they had from 1500 to 2000 fish, most of the boats being in.

Schiedmayer & Soehne Pianos.

We have just received a consignment of the above pianos direct from the factory. These are the best instruments made in Germany, and are without doubt the best German pianos ever imported into this country. M. W. Waitt & Co. *

Did not Connect.

The following dispatch was received from Nanaimo, from the captain of the Victoria hose team, this afternoon. "Vancouver hose team failed to connect. They do not want a race. Reached Nanaimo at 12:30 and waited until 3 o'clock. Will be home to-night. F. HEINDA."

Charles Davis' Funeral.

Mr. L. Roller, who took a very lively interest in collecting money to pay the funeral expenses of the late Charles Davis, acknowledges the receipt of subscriptions amounting to $79.50. This sum has been expended as follows: Funeral expenses, $62.50; clothing for children, $10. The balance has been handed to Chief Deasy to be used for the benefit of the family.

More Coal.

Messrs. Dunsmuir & Co. are now shipping coal from No. 6 shaft Wellington mines. While the shaft was being sunk, the management had the necessary railway constructed along the bluff to connect with the Wellington railway system. The seam is opening up in splendid condition, and the quality of the coal is pronounced by experts to be the finest yet "won" on Vancouver island, and that is saying a great deal.

Electric Tramway Contracts.

The Albion Iron Works Company have carried off the palm over several powerful competitors for the construction of a powerful engine and two great steel boilers for the Electric Tramway Company. The work is guaranteed of the very best description and will be completed by the 15th October next, by which date it is believed the tramway will be in regular operation. It is a pleasure to know that local manufacturers can compete successfully with eastern houses, and the action of the tramway company in awarding the contract as as they have, furnishes another strong reason for the liberal patronage of the lines by the public.

Orange Demonstration Incidents.

Two or three incidents of the Orange parade yesterday have not been recorded in print.

The proprietor of a Yates street hotel, who would not be expected to have any marked predilection for the orange ribbon manifested his good will by "setting 'em up" for the boys.

On the way from Beacon Hill park the procession stopped in front of the bishop's palace and the band played St. Patrick's day.

On the march from the hill there was a small demonstration on the part of the green on Quadra street. One son of the Emerald Isle came out on the sidewalk with a bunch of greens which he waved before the processionists and a couple of old ladies indulged in similar banter from the verandah.

The Theatre.

A fairly good audience sat patiently in the Victoria theatre last evening for one hour and a half before the curtain was rung up and then for two and a half hours more till Karl Gardner's performance was finished, making altogether an interesting exhibition of sedentary endurance. The play presented was "The Fatherland," a pleasing melodrama with the scenes laid in the mountains, and picturesque and romantic in its nature. The domestic life represented under these circumstances is very amusing, while there is just enough of the tragic to make the play interesting. Mr. Gardiner is a clever actor, with good stage appearance, and possessed of a very sweet, musical voice and kindly face. His support also is good, the company possessing as bewitching a little actress as one could wish for. The attendance at the matinee this afternoon was fair. This evening "Karl" will be given, a play in which Mr. Gardner has been a great success.

Horticultural Exhibition.

The exhibition under the auspices of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association of Vancouver, will be held on the 7th of August. The Van Horne block, Granville street, will probably be selected as the most suitable and convenient place. The prize list, prepared largely by the president, Mr. J. M. Browning, offers 87 cash premiums for first prizes and a similar number for second, 174 in all. Pot plants must have been grown in pots at least two months previous to the exhibition and be the property of the exhibitor. All fruits must be grown by or under the direction of the exhibitor. Hand boquets will be judged on the following points: Composition with regard to grace and elegance; quality of flowers; contrast of flowers; sufficiency of foliage; size will not constitute merit and over size will be considered a defect; and the use of paper around the bottom of a bouquet will disqualify the exhibit. Entries for the exhibition will close one week before the date of its being held.
